

LOS ANGELES DAILY TIMES.

ABOUT TOWN.

The telephone company are preparing to extend their line to San Gabriel. Rev. J. W. Ellis, now attending the Presbytery in San Diego, will be home in time to occupy his pulpit next Sunday.

W. A. Clinton and wife who recently arrived from Philadelphia, have rented J. J. Ayers' residence, in East Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles Presbytery at its session last Tuesday, in San Diego, announced its next place of meeting to be at Santa Barbara.

The Young Men's Christian Association has a neat sign painted in gold by Mr. Jacqua, on the bulletin board at Good Templar's Hall.

The cases which were transferred from Judge Buster's court at Downey to Compton the other day, are now transferred to Wilmington. Where next?

A special meeting will be held at Good Templar's Hall this evening at 7:30 by the Y. M. C. A., after which a Bible and Service will be held.

A hunter at San Fernando yesterday shot a deer through the eyes, and it ran some two hundred yards, stumbling over rocks and against trees, before the dogs could catch it.

There will be a church social this evening, at the residence of Rev. Mr. Church, pastor of the Fort Street M. E. Church. During a portion of the evening music will be the word. All are cordially invited.

Major Bell has made complaint before Justice Williams, of Downey, charging Officers Ceis, McMahon and Cuddy with the same offense for which he had them arrested here, and from which they were released on a writ of habeas corpus.

The appearance on the street of his honor, the Mayor, yesterday was most warmly welcomed. The flattering vote he received upon his election was no comparison as to tokens of his popularity. Nothing like dying to bring your friends to the front.

Life Diplomas have been granted by the State Board of Education to the following teachers of Los Angeles county: Sampson H. Butterfield; Mrs. Chloé B. Jones, Helen E. Holland, Martha M. Hewes, Delight Swift Lee and Virginia P. S. Zunwald.

Mrs. Reilly, the widow of the man who died suddenly two weeks ago leaving his family in destitute circumstances has started a laundry back of Naud's warehouse, in company with another lady. They will call for laundry and washing in any part of the city.

The old Tunnel Mill and Mining Company, at San Rafael, Lower California, of which Messrs. Bates, Barker, Muller, Sweetser and Meredith are interested, got their ten-stamp mill into running order last Saturday. Active operations will begin as soon as practicable.

The streets of this city are wretchedly numbered, causing constant annoyance to the public, and the intolerable nuisance should be remedied without delay. The numbering of Spring street, especially from First to Third, is a study worthy the patience of Job and the wisdom of Solomon.

Mr. John E. Richardson, recently from Lowell, Mass., has opened a boarding house on the Sierra Madre tract, one mile east of the "Vine" and parties wishing a healthy location will find this a very desirable one. The place is rightly named as vessels can be distinctly seen in Wilmington harbor, thirty miles distant. The location is very sightly, and overlooks the whole of San Gabriel Valley. His card appears in another column.

Mr. M. Blackstock contemplates removing, with his family, at an early day to Los Angeles, principally, we understand, on account of the advantages afforded for the education of his children afforded by the Higher and Normal School of that city. The firm of Blackstock & Shepherd will still be continued, the latter attending to the business in this county. Mr. Blackstock and family will be much missed from our little town.—Ventura Free Press.

PERSONAL MENTION.

G. B. Griffin is acting editor of the Herald during Joseph Lynch's absence. Mr. E. F. Spence went down to Santa Ana yesterday. He will return this morning.

James Mason, wife and children, of Cleveland, Ohio, are registered at the Pico House.

Judge Adams left yesterday for his old home at Windsor. He will return in one week with his family.

Miss Minnie Joslyn and Miss Jessie Lee, two young ladies of Orange, are registered at the Pico House.

H. H. Wilder, a prominent merchant of Lowell, Mass., arrived from the East on yesterday's overland express.

E. W. Hoyt, manufacturer of the famous Hoyt camera, arrived in our city from Lowell, Mass., yesterday.

Dr. Walter S. Lindley leaves this morning for a six weeks' visit to the East. The Times wishes him a pleasant trip and safe return.

There is a party of seven from South Manchester, Vermont, named "Cheney," registered at the Pico House, and two more of the same name from Boston.

Captain W. H. H. Russell is lying at death's door, but there is yet hope of his recovery. The fever has been lying each day in its return, which shows that it has been broken.

D. J. West, a prominent house carpenter of Santa Clara, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, and will leave today for Tustin, where he has a big contract on hand.

THE ORPHAN'S HOME CONCERT.

To Do Justice to All, It Will Be Repeated Shortly.

The managers of the Orphan's Home concert find that the generosity of the public and the appreciation of the entertainment offered for next Saturday evening have placed them in an unexpected position.

As is usual in the arrangements for an affair of this character, very many tickets were printed and widely distributed for sale, with the expectation that a large proportion would remain unsold.

To enable all to buy tickets on the same footing, the box-sheet was not opened until yesterday morning, when it speedily became evident that more tickets had been sold than was anticipated.

Every seat in the house was reserved yesterday and a large number of ticket holders were unable to obtain any. The managers feared that some might feel inclined to impute to them bad faith, and to relieve them from any such embarrassment, Miss Mamie Perry and other participants in the Saturday night concert have already signified their willingness to repeat the concert at the earliest possible date.

It is expected that that announcement in detail can be made in to-morrow morning's papers. If practicable the box-sheet for the second concert will be open at the Music Store to-morrow morning.

As the arrangements are completed those who have been unable to secure their tickets for tickets for the next performance and secure their tickets without extra charge. It is not expected that the repetition will prove as remunerative as the first concert, but the managers are actuated in this matter by a desire that every one should have his money's worth, and we sincerely hope that our people will show their appreciation of fair dealing and see that the managers do not lose by it.

COURT NOTES.

Estate of E. Naud, deceased—Continued till Monday, 8th, at 10 A. M.

Mound City Land and Water Association vs. Phillips et al.—Twenty days further time was allowed for the answer to the petition for injunction.

Isaac Hartman vs. Carlos Olvera, executor—Leave granted to substitute Edna Hartman, executrix for plaintiff, and Juan de Toro administrator for defendant. Summons to be issued in accordance with said substitution.

Hancock vs. Plummer—New trial granted.

Guardianship Lerner minors—Jacob Lerner appointed guardian under $200 bond.

ANAEHEIM TRIUMPHANT.

Judge McNeely Favors Prior Appropriation.

ANAEHEIM, April 13.—The findings of Judge McNeely in the case of the Anaheim Water Company against the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company were filed to-day.

The decision is in favor of the Anaheim Company, and gives them the right to take from the river water enough to fill their ditch at all times of the year; the ditch being described in the decision as six feet wide at the bottom, eight feet wide at the top and two feet deep.

An injunction is also granted against the defendants, restraining them from taking any of the water of said river until the Anaheim people have had the amount to which they are entitled. The decision is sweeping and grants everything asked by the plaintiffs. There is great rejoicing here, as the amount of water is sufficient for the needs of this entire country, and this section will now go rapidly forward in the development of the doctrine of prior appropriation, and is in keeping with other decisions lately rendered in other counties. The magnitude of the interests at stake here, according to the most important ever tried in this or any other county.

South Bound Passengers.

The following passengers passed Fresno last night bound south, and will arrive in Los Angeles this morning: W. J. Adams, J. O. Jenkins, Ben Adams, C. Teris, R. C. McPherson, O. McKerritt, M. Fugall, S. Loel, C. H. Simpkins, Mrs. J. Gates, S. F. G. Vincent, C. Kennedy, Kansas City; Mrs. McO Hare and child, Virginia City; W. Moore, Nev; W. L. LaPrairie, Colton; L. H. Tittus, San Gabriel; L. Rothchild, N. Y.; W. S. Miller, Chicago; J. B. Threlkeld, Miss M. Threlkeld, Mrs. J. Threlkeld, Kansas City; A. B. Moffatt, wife and daughter, Miss K. Macley, Los Angeles; Mrs. C. M. Stocker, Mrs. C. Stocker, and daughter, Sacramento; M. L. Brown, well, S. F.; O. E. Thompson, Phila; L. Gildmeier, wife and two children, Santa Ana; G. D. Mills, G. D. Mills, wife, Mrs. Meyer and child, Miss Harshaw, R. W. Bingham, C. R. King, S. F.; F. Smaur, L. A.; F. Orcutt, Oakland; L. Pratt, St Louis; M. H. Bond, Stockton; Mrs. C. Cadie, Iowa.

A New Enterprise.

Messrs. Meyer & Hillard have purchased the old Pizzolo stone works building at the foot of Saineview street, for the purpose of carrying on a first-class American laundry. They will employ nothing but white labor, duplicate the prices of the Chinese laundries and execute first-class work, hence there will be no excuse whatever for patronizing Chinese institutions. The present building is 60x24 feet, and they will shortly add 40x24 feet and make it a first-class steam laundry. Their present arrangements are perfect for washing and drying, and it is to be hoped they will receive the patronage they deserve. Their wagons will commence running next Monday and they will call for and deliver washing in any part of the city. See advertisement in "New To-day."

A Railroad Fire.

Bridge No. 85 on the Southern Pacific Railroad, above Newhall just on the edge of the Mojave desert, was discovered to be on fire yesterday at half past twelve o'clock, by the south bound emigrant passenger train, which reached there just in time to prevent a bad accident. The passengers turned out and assisted the train men, and after half an hour's hard work subdued the flames. The engine was then run over the bridge to test it, and, as it was found to be uninjured to any great extent, the whole train was pulled across. The accident delayed the train about two hours.

Notable Sale.

Yesterday the old City Brewery property on the corner of Spring and Second street, changed hands for the sum of $19,000. Mr. Harrold, of Oakland, was the seller, to parties unknown. This is another straw showing the general appreciation of property throughout the city.

House Warming.

About forty of the settlers of the new Sierra Madre tract, recently opened by N. C. Carter, gathered at the Ocean View House on last Thursday evening to congratulate Mr. Richardson, and wish him success. Music, cards and refreshments were served, the order of the evening, and all enjoyed themselves until the small hours.

A CATAPULT LADY.

Elegantly attired in silks and satins, accompanied by a fair-haired girl, was seen making purchases amid the fumes of opium and the gabble of the Mongol hordes. A few white men, with some shame left, were occasionally noticed to be hurriedly getting out of sight on the officer's approach. After a wearisome tramp through the labyrinth of dens and rookeries, reeking with the foul air, the opium smoke and filth of the moon-eyed lepers the party, oppressed, suppressed and depressed, emerged on Los Angeles street.

HELLO'S HALF ACRE.

A Report of a Tour Through Chinatown Yesterday.

Startling Revelations—Plith, Disease and Vice—Terrible Pictures of Woe—The Remedy.

Yesterday afternoon, in company with Captain T. J. Cuddy, of the police force, Dr. J. D. Hartley, and Robert Farrell, traveling correspondent of the San Jose Mercury, a Times reporter made a tour of inspection through that plague-spot of corruption called Chinatown, in the fair sanitarium of Los Angeles.

Turning into the first alley off Aliso street, the party, under the guidance of Captain Cuddy, entered a door of an adobe house, and their eyes rested on the interior of

HELLO'S HALF ACRE.

A Report of a Tour Through Chinatown Yesterday.

Startling Revelations—Plith, Disease and Vice—Terrible Pictures of Woe—The Remedy.

So familiar to old Californians. The room was six feet wide, eight feet long and about ten feet high. It did not contain five hundred cubic feet, and yet in this room seven persons, five men and two women, slept every night.

In another room, 24x20 and ten feet high, sleeps forty men nightly, and this is a palace compared with some. When it is to be considered that one man sleeps 800 cubic feet of air, and that to be renewed three times per hour, this "palace" should hold only three men. Then there is no light and

NO VENTILATION.

In any of the many sleeping apartments visited yesterday, a fact which the Eastern tenderfoot will be slow to believe. A lodging house was shown where the sleepers were piled in thick that "bugs in the rug" were no comparison. This house charges a sum equal to about three cents and a half for a night's lodging. In some places, where the doors were opened, lighted cubby holes could be seen opening into garrets where the occupants crawl in of nights.

PERFECT RAT HOLES.

After passing out of the first building in the rear yard, the first thing that appeared to eye and nostril was the filthy condition of the back yard. Every dirt of all kinds was heaped up in the corners, while in one place a most horrible and disgusting fact was brought to light by the assistance of Captain Cuddy. By a bad fence was

ROWS OF VESSELS.

In which was saved all the urine that could be collected. "This," said Captain Cuddy, "is used by them as the choicest kind of manure, and is poured out in the streets, and then the men mentally resolved to eat no more celery, onions, radishes, parsnips and other delectably flavored productions of Chinese garden. A scientific examination by Dr. Hartley, revealed the fact that this liquid was strongly tainted with syphilitic diseases! And yet this fluid, full of death, is used on the vegetables in the gardens, and then it is sold in the streets of Los Angeles! This is the naked truth, which, if Times never shrank to disclose when it is for the good of the people.

IN ANOTHER YARD was a ditch filled with impurities from neighboring kitchens running into a stagnant pool, which overflowed into a vault, which was so offensive that none of the party could inspect comfortably, on account of the terrible stench arising. A tall draught chimney arose from the outhouse over the vault that carried the stench and gas away from the well-known law of the diffusion of gases. These things are a positive nuisance, in which the Health Officer might longer will be by long delay in duty. These cesspools were frequent, in fact in every yard, and one place in particular was so filthy that the offensive odors kept the whole party at respectful distance, while one who climbed up and looked over sickened at the sight.

This filth, although frequent, was not by any means the most offensive thing seen. In the filthy kitchen, the walls were all clean, a fact that deserves credit. Their bed clothes and garments were also clean. It is the crowding of many together and the accumulation of filth in heaps and pools that is the evil.

DISEASES.

Many of the men and women were subjected to an examination of the mouth and throat, and in some cases nearly all showed more or less signs of either present or constitutional syphilis. Shut out from nature's great vitalizers of light and air, the men and women presented no evidences of any such disease. In one room, a very black and filthy old woman in a dark rat hole, where the healing sunlight of heaven never penetrated, and where the healthiest of men could never extend, lying upon a bunk, nearly

KATZEN UP ALIVE.

With the horrible disease of gonorrhea ophthalmia, and no care whatever being taken of her. Of course this is a severe case, and the nature of the complaint, and the doctrine of prior appropriation, and is in keeping with other decisions lately rendered in other counties. The magnitude of the interests at stake here, according to the most important ever tried in this or any other county.

OPTIMISM DENIED.

These are numerous throughout all Chinatown. The opium is used to create a fluid thick and dark like molasses. The point of a darning needle is stuck into the opium, which is driven into the veins of the patient, who is then lighted, and inhaled through the lungs, this being the quickest way of enjoying the effect. Several examples of the art were given by request. There are few changes now who do not hit the pipe.

The opium extract is retailed for about ten cents per thumbful. The effects of it were seen in thin, cadaverous, morose ghosts that were sleeping on their bunks. In one of the black holes, where there was neither light nor ventilation, a cat was observed perceptibly under the influence of the drug from breathing the atmosphere tainted by the poppy's fatal extract.

THE RESULTS.

Here in the fairest spot on God's footstool is a cancer that is fastening itself in almost the business center of our city. Hundreds of Chinamen living in a quarter, huddled up together without any regard to the laws of hygiene, their utter neglect of health regulations fast turning it into a miasmatic swamp worse than ever shook the people of the classic Wabash. The reason why the Chinese do not die of it immediately themselves, is because the death-laden atmosphere arising from their accumulating filth by the law of gas exhalation is carried to other portions of the city to breed disease. Three fatal diseases may spring from these Chinese cesspools:

1. Epidemic dysentery.

2. Typhoid fever.

3. Diphtheria.

Even the houses are closed affairs. Their gods are evidently not the gods of light and ventilation. In the business portion, restaurants, butcher shops, stores, etc., were crowded as closely as were lodgers in other portions. In one store

And sunshine of heaven, and as they walked up Aliso street onto Spring street, it seemed like they were treading on the very boundaries of Paradise, so fresh the contrast with the place they had just left.

The resolution of City Councilman Cohn should include the city limits unrestricted. Let something be done at once toward removing this unmitigated nuisance of Chinatown outside of the limits of Los Angeles city forevermore.

Thanks are tendered Captain T. J. Cuddy for courtesies shown and also for valuable information.
